Dear Mr Grundler,

please find attached our latest publication on measurements of Euro 6 passenger cars on the road with PEMS. The results show that 33 of 36 vehicles fail current NOx emission limit value. To date, no mandatory recall has been mandated by responsible authorities for any of the cars involved.

Please let me also send along a kind reminder to my request to meet our CEO Jürgen Resch in your office. You have met with him in Berlin in US Embassy some time ago and discussed US and German approaches to deal with the diesel scandal. I am sure after your return from vacation there are plenty of requests to answer, please excuse my urge. From our perspective second half of October would be perfect.

If you have any question please let me know.
